Indian Public Administration Association

The Indian Public Administration Association (IPAA) was created to enhance and promote the study and research of public administration, governance, and public policy in India. IPAA aims to establish friendly relationships with other organizations involved in this field in India and abroad. It serves as a platform for Public Administrators, Scholars, and Teachers of Public Administration in India to share their ideas and experiences and maintain connections with other international bodies and organizations interested in public administration. To achieve these goals, the Association organizes conferences and symposia at various universities and institutions in India and provides intellectual inputs for Public Administration Departments to conduct seminars and workshops.

IPAA Membership is open to:

- (i) All academics, researchers, and practitioners affiliated with universities and relevant institutions in Asia in the area of Public Administration, Governance, and Public Policy and related fields; and
- (ii) Academics, researchers, and practitioners affiliated with international organizations in the area of Public Administration and related fields with an interest in India
